Handwritten text in a script, likely Burmese, on a palm leaf. The text is arranged in two lines, with the second line being more legible than the first. The characters are finely etched into the surface of the leaf. The first line appears to contain a date or a reference number, possibly '1751' or '1752'. The second line contains a name or a title, which is partially obscured by the binding threads.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, slightly discolored paper. There are two prominent dark circular marks, possibly holes or ink stains, on the right side of the page.
